Message from the President of The Australian and New Zealand Association of Antiquarian Booksellers

It is a pleasure to welcome you to ANZAAB's 40th Australian Antiquarian Book Fair. We are honoured to return to the University of Melbourne's Wilson Hall, a perfect venue for a rare book fair, and we are indebted to the University for its ongoing support of ANZAAB.

Our book fairs continue to grow and flourish. Last year's Melbourne Rare Book Fair achieved a record number of visitors, and more than a million dollars worth of items were sold. This year, we have thirty seven exhibitors, with distinguished colleagues from London, New York, and Berkeley, California joining 32 booksellers from all around Australia. Visitors to the Book Fair again have the opportunity to view, discover and purchase rare, treasured and unusual books, maps, prints, and manuscripts, as well as more ephemeral items ranging from elusive pamphlets to nostalgic posters and postcards. This is also an opportunity for newcomers and existing collectors to establish or renew relationships with leading antiquarian booksellers who, as experts in their fields, are always keen to share their knowledge.

Melbourne Rare Book Fair is a proud partner of Melbourne Rare Book Week. It resoundingly demonstrates this year's theme – 'A Passion For Books' – in keeping with the philosophy of ANZAAB. If you are a neophyte in the world of books, a confirmed bibliophile – or perhaps one whose passion tends towards bibliomania – the 2013 Melbourne Rare Book Fair will delight you.

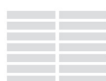

Sally Burdon
